Personalized Service

In days gone by it was the custom to marry at home and treat your guests to genuine Southern hospitality in a relaxed, unhurried fashion. The Plantation at Pigeon Mountain is founded on the belief that people still agree with those sentiments. We are dedicated to making your wedding day uniquely you, set in a relaxed atmosphere — beautifully, tastefully, and professionally arranged.

Many wedding venues insist on fitting you into their agenda with restrictive time allotments, preset menus and other confining factors. At The Plantation, we give you full flexibility in arranging your special day to suit your needs, fully customizing our facilities to your desires and wishes.

We are committed to making your wedding a charming display of your individual interests and taste. To help us grasp your vision, we meet personally with you so we can incorporate personal touches that truly reflect who you are as you celebrate this most special day in your lives.

Make The Plantation your home for the day and let us make your dream wedding an event to remember.

Professional Services

Like a delightful performance, weddings require much careful planning, rehearsal and coordination. We have selected professional individuals in the hospitality and entertainment fields to ensure both eloquent presentations and smooth productions, leaving you completely free to enjoy the pleasure of your day.
